

Programme

NEON Summit:

Addressing attainment gaps in HE: What can be done?

30th January 2019

Time	Session	Speakers
09.30	Registration & refreshments
10.00	Introduction
10.10	Keynote speaker	Sherria Hoskins , Professor of Psychology and Education, Dean of Science, University of Portsmouth
10.40	Keynote speaker	Dr Jason Arday , Senior Lecturer in Education, University of Roehampton
11.10	Refreshments
11.30	Breakout sessions	A: Learning and teaching and its role in narrowing the gap Helen Howard, Academic Project Lead, Student Attainment Project 2, University of Derby Dr Ruth Ayres, Associate Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Teaching, Learning & Academic Governance), University of Derby
		B: Identifying the problem – using data to find out where the gaps are Paulette Williams, Head of Student Success Projects, University College London Rebecca Allen, Head of Data and Insight (Education), University College London
		C: Student Success Beyond Deficit Discourses Dr Jessica Gagnon, Senior Research Fellow, School of Education and Sociology, University of Portsmouth
12.30	Lunch

Time	Session	Speakers
13.30	Keynote speaker	The BME attainment gap – what is the role of teaching and learning? Nona McDuff OBE , Director of Student Achievement, Kingston University
14.00	Group discussion	Overcoming the challenges
14.45	Refreshments
15.00	Panel discussion: What does higher education need to do to reduce attainment gaps?	Dr Jessica Gagnon , Senior Research Fellow, School of Education and Sociology, University of Portsmouth
		Nona McDuff OBE , Director of Student Achievement, Kingston University
		Professor Susan Smith , Associate Director, Centre for Learning and Teaching, Leeds Beckett University
15.45	What should NEON do next
16.00	End of event	